ABOUT US

Our country boasts a highly conducive environment for fruit cultivation, characterized by its diverse ecological characteristics and soil structures. Due to these characteristics, the country is a global leader in terms of production volume and area in many fruit species. IRGELER FİDANCILIK is committed to producing standard and certified fruit saplings in species such as peach, flat peach, nectarine, flat nectarine, apple, cherry, plum, pear, Japanese pear, apricot, date, quince, kiwi, cherry, almond, walnut and medlar. These saplings are grafted on rootstocks suitable for different ecological regions, and IRGELER FİDANCILIK has gained considerable experience and knowledge in this area since the 1940s. Our production facilities comprise 700,000 m² of open space, geothermal greenhouses, cold storage and a tissue culture laboratory. At İRLER FİDANCILIK, we are committed to providing our customers with healthy, reliable and high-quality products. Each sapling is cultivated using meticulously selected rootstocks and disease-resistant varieties, ensuring that producers' expectations are consistently met to the highest standard. IRGELER FİDANCILIK is committed to sustainable agriculture and environmentally friendly practices. The organization continues its annual operations by initiating new projects and establishing collaborative relationships with new breeding companies. These endeavors are driven by a commitment to safeguarding natural resources, enhancing soil health, and fostering biodiversity.
